

04/26/2018

African Internet News Headlines

Algeria progresses on new submarine cable connectivity project

FPA - Liberia's Internet Society Engages Students on Use of Cyberspace

Google wants to bypass Africa's slow internet speeds with a faster search app

How 100Mbps uncapped fibre became cheap in South Africa

Polaris Networks enables Globe Internet to deliver improved 4G-LTE services in sub Saharan region

Kenya's Microsoft-backed Mawingu aims to triple broadband users

E-commerce paves the way for entrepreneurs in Ghana

How African governments try to control what is said online

Sky Views: How Africa is 'taming' the internet

#IFF2018 \(Day 3\): Programme kicks off with session on freeing internet space in Africa

Vox launches Internet of Things solutions

Technology support for the Internet of Things

How to ruin elections in Africa, cybercrime laws focus of 2018 internet freedom forum

Press Freedom Varies Considerably Across Africa

Node Africa Kenya selects Workonline for upstream internet

African internet users' privacy highly vulnerable - The National

Google Releases New Africa App to Beat Slow Internet Speeds

Abuja hosts Africa at the 2018 Internet Freedom Forum

South Africa continues to tippy-toe into the cloud

Facebook, Digits Africa to train teens on online safety

OPINION: Digital identity - defining ourselves in a virtual world

Pornography could drive Nigeria's Internet penetration deeper

Senegal to host Africa Internet Summit from April 29 to May 11

Facebook partners Digits Africa to launch youth online safety programme

Data tomorrow is what oil is today' - the battle is on for control

Nigeria's Digital Rights Bill sets example for Africa say experts

Namibian mobile operator slashes data pricing after SA #DataMustFall protests

Experts call for passage of Digital Rights Bill across Africa

Rwanda: More Kigali Households Get Fibre Optic Coverage

Freedom of expression on shaky ground in Southern Africa

More Kigali households get fibre optic coverage