Oceania Internet News for 05/04/18:

Australian start-up Fleet Space aims to enable IoT globally

Tasmanian telco complaints skyrocket, new report reveals

Tasmania short of techies and tradies, federal figures show

iTWire - Nokia and TeamTalk team up for 'critical and resilient communications in New Zealand'

New Zealand has enough of being left off the map

Blockchain in travel: which journey are you on?

Your Industry News | Nokia signs agreement for critical communications in New Zealand

New Zealand government proposes online shopping "Amazon tax"

Only 10 percent of jobs will be lost to AI - report

Submarine cable deals signed for Kiribati and Nauru

New Zealand examining AI ethical framework and action plan

New Zealand unprepared for AI

Facebook downvote button expanded to New Zealand and Australia

Kordia Solutions handed $9.6M to jam mobile services in local prisons

Red Cross launches esports initiative in Australia to combat loneliness

World-first inquiry into online news, Facebook and Google

Online voting is impossible to secure. So why are some governments using it?

5G: How Ready Is Australia For The Next Generation - Which-50

Telstra says outage affecting 4G and NBN customers across Australia has been resolved

Pawsey gets $70 million to replace ageing supercomputers

Speed tests reveal Hobart has Australia's fastest internet

Australia could have over 10M 5G connections by 2022 - ARN

IBM Australia revenue drops $400 million - Services - CRN Australia

Microsoft fielded 1,637 customer data requests from Aussie law enforcers last year

Acquisition boosts Equinix's Australian data centre portfolio to 15

Phone and internet service issues hit 10 million Aussies

Google-backed Sydney to Japan cable construction commences

This is a drill: Australia's cyber 'war' against a country a bit like Russia

Cable to PNG and Solomons described as transformative

Telco ombudsman records 204 per cent growth in NBN-related complaints

Cisco and SAS team up on Sydney-based IoT research centre

In the Works: May events bring focus to Asian/Pacific cultures, resources

Cloudflare announces 1.1.1.1 DNS service which aims to speed up your internet and protect privacy

More Pacific youth encouraged into tech

NEP Australia and Telstra Deliver World's First Trans-Pacific Remote Production

Students increasingly accessing restricted material online

Victoria University of Wellington takes cybersecurity message to Samoa

Hawaiki cable lands in American Samoa

Perth customers hit by massive iiNet outage

After-hours GP, online appointments: The plan to ease pressure on regional hospitals

Vic government puts $17.6 million towards cyber security strategy

Vic government to spend $124 million on digital patient records

Melbourne consultancy wins $1.7M Victorian Heart Hospital IT deal

eCorner takes over liquidated tech retailer's online selling platform

Nokia and TeamTalk partner on connected emergency services vehicles

Cloudflare Launches 1.1.1.1 DNS Service to Boost Internet Privacy

China's Pacific investment push lands in Solomon Islands

Australia Pressures Solomon Islands To Drop Huawei Equipment

Turnbull confirms Solomon Islands subsea cable will go live at the end of 2019

Triple-0 outages affecting NSW, Victoria and Western Australia after cable cut

Australia set to create nation's first space agency