

Asian Internet News for 05/18/2018

Featured:

- Indian e-commerce likely to cross \$100bn mark by 2020
- China's Alibaba Group Holding Ltd \(NYSE:BABA\) Buys Pakistan E-Commerce Firm Daraz
- Experts, organisations come together to build Indian language Internet
- Nokia to develop 500 smart villages in India

More:

IBM selects Keio to host first quantum computing hub in Asia

Asian markets log third day of losses, even as Tencent surges

Ant Financial extends dominance in Chinese online finance

Asian markets close flat to lower amid new worries from North Korea

How Zalora delivers in a market with more than 17,000 islands

Tech investing: 5G hurt Asian telecom shares says JP Morgan

India Saw Highest Internet Shutdowns in 2017-18: UNESCO Report

Emerging Asia: A guide for investors

Wearable tech beats smartphone sales to power Asia's growth

Southeast Asia's Carro raises \$60M for its automotive marketplace and car financing service

Baidu lets corporate Japan read Chinese consumers' minds

BharatNet has a new target: Connect every village home

SoftBank's Son is the new sun for India's internet ecosystem - The tech giant and its CEO

850 Mn Internet Users To Boost India's Digital Economy

Is India fast becoming a digital colony?

E-school system to be introduced in five govt girls' schools

The Cyber Harassment of Women in Pakistan - Modern Diplomacy

FATA To Get IT And Telecom Services

Azerbaijan and Pakistan develop cooperation in tourism, education and infrastructure

What next after Alibaba's acquisition of Pakistan's Daraz?

Online Manga Piracy Debate: IP Protection vs. Idea, Business, And Culture Promotion?