

European Internet News for 05/18/2018

Deutsche Telekom CEO outlines investment strategy for revenue growth

The power of data - what are our rights?

Facebook's Zuckerberg to meet Macron, other European officials next week

GDPR: 70 percent of businesses dumping data, says IBM

Russia: Telegram block leads to widespread assault on freedom of expression online

EU data protection may trigger global ripple effect

Mediterranean towns ready for EU-sponsored free wifi

European news sites are among the worst offenders when it comes to third-party cookies and content

New EU Strategy on Artificial Intelligence European Public Policy

Italy's new populist government could unleash the anti-European furies

United Group commits to €600 million investment in SE Europe

Europe trails Russia & China, lacking political weight to face down US - Galloway

Internet of Things \(IoT\) Market In Europe Is Expected To Grow 18.32% CAGR till 2024

BBC predicts all-IP future, says it will evolve into an internet broadcaster

Google makes privacy policy clearer than ever to comply with EU law

The First Tangible Effects of the GDPR

Time to 'take fate into its own hands': Europe can't rely on US protection anymore, says Merkel

Macron to Merkel: 'Don't wait, act now' for Europe

Hertz offers free 4G internet connection and more in Europe

Hungarian, Czech, Romanian and German Operations of Liberty sold to Vodafone

Danish consumer council: Wish.com's products violate EU law

Vodafone to buy Liberty Global Europe units for \$22b