

Oceania / Australian Internet News for 05/18/2018:

Rabobank signs digital transformation deal with Telstra

Put on your shades: the future is photonics

The convenience of conducting international money transfers via the internet

Norton Core router launches with high-performance, IoT security in New Zealand

NZ takes lead in Pacific Cyber-Security network

How an online casino is exploiting a legal loophole to prey on Kiwi gambling addicts

Over half of Kiwis concerned by privacy, as GDPR looms

SecurityBrief NZ - CERT NZ honoured to chair new Pacific Cyber Security Operational Network

Data#3's Australian Government Microsoft deal worth \$70M

3 exciting shares benefiting from growing tech trends

Simble Solutions Ltd secures primary Australian distributor deal for energy platform with Synnex

Kaspersky Lab to move all Australian users' data from Russia to Switzerland

Fijian Parliament enacts Online Safety Bill; Digital media etiquette controlled

YouTube preparing to battle Spotify with latest offering

Kiwi startups provide IoT solution for boaties using AWS

Extreme Networks puts 140 APAC distributors under review

New wi-fi hotspots connects travellers with our tourism gems - Brand SA News

MapR appoints Nextgen as first A/NZ distributor - ARN

Google under investigation in Australia for large scale Android data harvesting

Are your customers doing enough to help you protect their privacy?

Dissidents risk government intervention in domain names battle

GovPass pilot to launch in October; digital ID project to push 2.8m transactions online

Cyber minister tight-lipped on law enforcement access to encrypted comms

Vodafone NZ pays NZ\$3m for remaining stake in rural ISP

NZ takes lead in Pacific Cyber-Security network

Australian Space Agency to launch on 1 July

NSW to begin state-wide digital licence rollout